

Oh my god, Mehekiii, you're 21!!!! How does it feel to be born a day before a legend 🥰, but let me just start with thanking you for existing, for being my cousin sister who's no less than my sibling, one of the BESTEST FRIENDS, and for sure one of the smartest people I know.

Mehek, I'm literally so blessed to have you in my life, and I'm so glad that you chose me as your favourite cousin hehe. That one person who has the purest heart, gives the perfect advice, and who's so honest about how she doesn't know any relatives and how she only knows Jia and Seema Masi and their entire family in Indore lol. And also the best friend to all your friends, the best sibling, the best daughter and the best cousin. We all are so, so lucky to have you, and we are sooo proud of everything that you do.

My mom still misses your conversations with her. She always says that you're so mature, so strong, and so smart, just like your mom, and she always says that the two of us remind her of her bond with Masi. I just feel so happy that we both have and will always have such a great bond, no matter the distance.

Mehek, just know one thing: anytime and anywhere, if you ever need me in life, I'll always be one call or a text away, and I genuinely mean it. I am so sorry that I couldn't come to Kolkata to celebrate our birthdays together, but I hope you have a fantastic day with the most amazing friends that you're blessed with.

I will definitely see you super soon, and I miss you. Bhavi Bhaiya will always be super proud of everything that you do, Mehek, and can't wait for you to release your banger songs.

Happy, happy birthday, my love. May you get everything that you wish for and even more. I love youuuu more than any paragraphs or any words that could ever come out of my mouth.
